

MINISTRY UPDATE FOR NOVEMBER 2011

This year has gone by so quickly, and with my departure to Haiti inching closer, the pressure is on for getting final preparations made. The biggest things left on my agenda are to finish off my time at work, begin handing off my responsibilities as the Associate Pastor of my church, work on gathering all my necessary supplies for Haiti, and continue the ongoing process of fundraising.

FINISHING THINGS UP AROUND HERE

As far as work goes, I am getting more and more eager for December 23 to get here so I can be done with my truck driving job.

On the church side of things, with Grace Baptist Church officially now moving full force toward the January 8th re-launch as Redemption Church, my final work there is wrapped around the transition and helping get training systems in place for raising up the next group of church leaders.

Also, on Nov. 6 I had the privilege of preaching and presenting HGIM to Central Baptist Church of Bowie, TX, under the leadership of Pastor Rocky Lindley and Youth Pastor Guy Mervyn. I have known both of them since college and it was a great weekend catching up and hearing how God is working in their church. I am very thankful for their encouragement and support of my ministry.

HAITI PREPARATIONS

In the beginning of December, Dave Young, Executive Director of HG-Haiti is leading a small team down to the orphanage facilities in Kenscoff, to make a final assessment of the situation before I move down in January. Although some of my final needs for that trip will be determined during their survey, some known physical needs I know I have to get include things like a handheld GPS system, quality digital camera, and a water bottle with built in filtration. If you would like to help provide any of these items or for a complete list of physical needs please contact me.

2012 OLYMPICS OUTREACH

The team is forming, a plan is coming together, and I am in the process of developing some of the written materials we will be using during our time in the U.K. I am excited as God is opening doors, and am praying for a solid team to form, ready to share the Gospel of Jesus Christ to the nations as they gather for the Olympics.

If you are at all interested in participating in this mission, I have good news. The deadline for the $100 discounted fee is extended an extra month. To take advantage we must receive your application and fee by Dec. 15. You can get the application and more info at www.HGIMnetwork.org.

PRAYER REQUESTS

- Please pray that I can get over all of the seasonal allergies and minor sinus infection as it is making getting anything accomplished harder than it should be.
- Pray for my spiritual preparation for Haiti during this busy season of finishing things up here; that my relationship with Christ remains the first priority no matter what else "has to be done."
- Pray for my finances as I am still stuck in the "Probably OK" category for Haiti.

Thank you so much to everyone who is praying for me and those who have already given money to help my work move forward. As we move into the holiday season, I hope you have a wonderful Thanksgiving full of friends and family and multitudes of things to be thankful for this year.

Contact me with any questions or for more information about my ministry at 1-888-91Psalm ext. 1 or singram@heartofgodinternational.org. You can also read the full-length update at www.anthonyingram.com